From the author: Just a simple recording application, designed to capture and record what your screen looks like. It is a stand alone application, so no installation is required and the executable size is 53kb. With support for several resolutions, it is a handy tool for making your tutorials. This is an example of what you can do with vTute Recorder: 1. Open the application and click on the Record button.2. Set the resolution you want to record at.3.Click on Record.The application will start capturing your screen and will record the screen in real time.4. When the recording is finished, click stop.5. Your screen capture video will be saved as a wmv video file to the vTute website folder.6. When you want to play the video click on the Play button.7. When finished clicking on play.The application will play the file like any video player.8. When the user want to change the resolution click on Record again.9. When the recording is finished, click on stop.10. Your screen capture video will be saved as a h264/mp4 video file to the vTute website folder. vTute Recorder: What is this site all about? vTute is a new type of social networking platform. Anyone can create a tutorial, share their tutorials, and let other users find, watch and comment on their tutorial. Imagine if you are going to teach how to do something and want to share it with others, who have already learned the content you are teaching, or who are interested in learning it, but do not have the time to do so. What if you want to learn something and want to share it with others, so they can learn from it as well. That is why vTute was developed. vTute takes your videos, uploaded to vTute website (www.vtute.com), and adds tools to automatically play your video for you (so you can learn for free, while the other person watches it). It allows you to embed your video into any website and share it with other vTutors, so they can also learn from your video. vTute also allows you to create what you want and share it to other people easily. vTute Recorder: How does this work? vTute Recorder is an application that can record what your screen looks like and save the recorded video

Thursday, January 20, 2011 Hello, These are the first videos created with vTute. They are inspired by all the great videos created with other, programs (by the "power users"), but designed to be easy to use and follow. I hope you find them useful, and I hope that many other students find them helpful. The programs used to create these videos are the following: Dear Classmates, This is me, Jason! I am your classmate in this program. I am an honors graduate of Florida State University, with a major in Electrical Engineering. I love science and, with the help of my wife, I have developed a video tutoring program that allows you to create your own videos. I have created videos about everything from using MySpace,to advanced formulas, and from how to do basic electrical
