Updated: March 3, 2020 Related Articles In a pen session first introduced in 2016, the AFL Commission has voted to allow the Panthers to keep their name, caps and other branding elements. The Commission meets twice annually to vote on whether there should be an official sponsor for each AFL club. The votes were unanimous for the Panthers and the headline clause was for a club to have its name and branding, caps and premiership cup. A 2014 Commission Report that prompted the new voting system, found that there were a range of clubs that didn't want a name sponsor, including Geelong, Collingwood, Brisbane, Richmond and Hawthorn. However, some argued that a fans' demand for a name sponsor would create a wedge between the AFL and the football club, as occurred with Port Adelaide in Adelaide, who were originally sponsored by Balmoral but were switched to a corporate sponsor in 2014. As part of the new process, clubs are now charged with the responsibility of notifying the Commission of any potential name sponsors. “The fact that so many fans have made their views known is an important element of the outcome,” said AFL Chief Executive Officer Gillon McLachlan. “The fact that so many people support their club’s name sponsor is a significant development for the game, and is a reflection of the continued strong connection between the clubs and the fans.”

The new voting system was

Pocketful.toQ: Codeigniter: How to display multiple values from the same database query? I am trying to show multiple values from the same database query, based on a variable. $id = 2; $query = $this->db->get_where('customers', array('id' => $id)); foreach ($query->result() as $row) { echo $row->value; echo $row->another_value; }

This is what I have so far... But it seems that I cannot use the $row->value or $row->another_value parts of the code.

How can I access this data? A: You could use other SQL functions like IN or JOIN to relate the 2 columns to their related row. Or
