ThunderSoft GIF to SWF Converter is a handy piece of software which aids individuals to convert their GIF, BMP, PNG and JPG images to a SWF Flash format. The installation process can be dealt with quite fast, and after you complete it, you are met with a modern and simple interface, which is accessible to all types of users, even those with little to no previous experience with computers. It includes a few buttons, a preview panel and a pane to display all added files. The only way to upload photographs is by using the file browser provided, as the “drag and drop” function is not incorporated. All items are going to be displayed along with details such as name, progress, frame count, size and path. Single file and batch processing is featured, and you can change a large number of options for the output file. To be more precise, you can increase or decrease the image size, change the frame rate and the background color. It is also possible to add background music, in MP3, WAV and WMA formats, and loop it, as well as insert a logo (PNG, GIF, JPG, BMP, ICO, EMF, WMF) with a custom position. You can also extract image series from animated GIFs. The conversion process does not take long, yet this might vary, depending on the number of files uploaded, their size and your computer's performance. Nonetheless, you should know this program does not burden your system's resources. To conclude, ThunderSoft GIF to SWF Converter is a useful piece of software for transforming your pictures into SWF Flash files. It has a good response time, a user-friendly environment and sufficient options to tinker with.

Q: Allow logged in users to download files - php I'm working on a software that allows the users to download some files from a list of files. When the user clicks on download the file's href is passed to the php script as a post. I was wondering if there is a way to force the user to login first before allowing them to download the files? Thanks A: A couple of ways come to mind By having an upload form on your site that requires a username/password. If it's the same domain, requiring a cookie or IP address (if not its own domain). If its to do with the same domain you are already
