material and then follow the steps in the videos to get started! You can subscribe to our site for more in-depth Photoshop Elements tutorial content that can help you become an expert. Find all the best free PSD templates for beginners in our Pinterest board. Steps 1. Set the Mode Select Edit > Mode > 8 Bits per channel to view your images in a deep black and white format with 8 bits per channel. 2.

Get Ready We recommend that you have Photoshop Elements (either CS2 or CS3) or Adobe PhotoShop (CS4 or CS5) installed.

These are both expensive programs but worth it, especially if you want to edit your photos professionally. For this tutorial, we'll be using the web versions of Photoshop Elements and Photoshop. You can download the desktop versions on Adobe's website for a small price. 3. Choose a Photo Next, open a photo in Photoshop Elements and choose Edit > Edit in Photoshop Elements. 4. Reveal All Layers Now select all the layers by pressing the Ctrl key and holding down the shift key on your keyboard. You can press this button by pressing Shift+Ctrl+Alt+A on the keyboard. 5. Activate the Layer Mask You should see the Layer Mask window appear at the bottom of the screen. Click the dotted line to activate the Layer Mask. This will make your image transparent. 6. Put the White

background for the elements you want to edit. 7. Select Elements to Edit Now you can select the elements in your photo that you want to edit. 8. Change the Fill Color Next, select the color that you want to use for the background. 9. Change the Background Color To change the background color of your photo, click on the background color in the Colour Palette window on the right. 10. Change the Opacity Next, change the opacity of the photo to the extent that you want

It was not the urban legend. The video of wolf Aurora performing an urban circus tricks on Halloween in Inglewood had been widely circulated and it is well known to be its true owner. But, when it was reported that the wild beast would be on display at the Los Angeles Zoo tonight, the Department of Animal Services (DAS) did a little investigating, released a statement and politely explained to the media: “We are not going to comment on any rumor of an animal being at the zoo.” At the end of the day, it was the zoo’s official announcement of its 19th annual “You’re Never Too Small” Halloween exhibit that had the staff of DAS rushing to place a call to the zoo to check on the matter, according to a department spokesperson.

“You’re Never Too Small” is a Halloween attraction at the zoo where volunteers dress up as ghost, goblins, monsters and superheroes and demonstrate a variety of feats, including walking on stilts and balancing on unicycle, said zoo spokeswoman Brooke

Federighi. About 6,000 people are expected to take part in tonight's festivities that begins at 6 p.m. "It's a pretty cool show, there are little kids, there are teenagers and adults doing fun tricks," Federighi said. To get a perfect family photo of a wolf and her wolf cub, you can always check out the zoo's Facebook page. But beware, like in Aurora's case, the wolf and cub could be dangerous. Wolf cubs can be young and inexperienced and do bite, Federighi said. She advises parents to make sure their kids are not put in dangerous situations and that they are properly supervised.

Saint-Joseph-de-Grand-Pré,
Quebec Saint-Joseph-de-Grand-Pré is a municipality in central-western Quebec, Canada, located in Papineau
Regional County

Municipality in the former Gatineau Regional County Municipality. It is located on the northern side of the Ottawa River, the Ottawa Canyon, with the city of Hull representing Quebec City's west end and Camp Fortune representing the city of Gatineau's east end.

History Communes Saint-Joseph-de-Grand-Pré was a part of Hull until 1998 when it was separated from the rest of the former city. The changes that led to the separation of Saint-Joseph-de-Grand-Pré began in 1987 when Pontiac District became the pioneer or starting point of Gatineau

Municipality. When the community failed to reach the population threshold to become a city, it was annexed by Hull on February 3, 1996. As a result of urban sprawl, several suburban communities were created, some of which became separated from the former municipality and thus became independent municipalities. The former municipality was divided into two independent municipalities: Saint-Joseph-de-Grand-Pré and Saint-Louis-de-Grantham.

Demographics Population
Language Neighbourhoods
The major neighbourhoods in Saint-Joseph-de-Grand-Pré include Mont-Marigot,
Saint-Joseph-de-Grand-Pré,
Saint-Apollinaire and Saint-Louis-de-Grantham. There are also a few minor residential areas like Côtédes-Neiges, Édouard-Waller, Hillside, La Cité, Le Conseil-de-Justice and Saint-Cyprien. Economy The main industry is still forestry and construction. Education The first school was built in 1892. The primary school that serves the municipality is École Militaire. The secondary school is École Secondaire de l'Outaouais.
