This is Chapter 1 in a six-chapter game. One day, every employee of Marsh Industries seemingly vanished. Unable to penetrate the state-of-the-art security system, police have asked The Agency for help. You're called in on a one-man mission to rescue any survivors, neutralize any threats, and retrieve the experimental AI brain Marsh has developed. What happened to the employees? Who is responsible? And what madness has this company created? Find tools and solve puzzles to advance further into the labyrinthian laboratory. 1. PORTRAIT OF A FEMINIST Porcupine's Fate Chapter 1: A Doll's House It's hard to be a feminist when a high-tech corporation hires you to save them from their own murderous experiments. Even if the driving force behind that murderous experiment is an AI. And the consequences could be catastrophic. Reluctant to enter the shiny new Marsh Industries building, Robyn Turner is surprised to be granted immediate access by the building's AI. The walls, floors and ceiling pulsate with an eerie blue glow. Sunken with shadows, it feels like it could swallow anything that came close. The familiar feeling of being cooped up and trapped behind glass tells Robyn she's in a lab. But this doesn't feel the way a lab would typically look. Still, she's happy to be here. A familiar voice and motionless image in the main office give Robyn her first impression of what's going on. "You've been assigned to marsh. All of marsh. This is your one and only assignment." It explains nothing. Robyn is left to her own devices in a whole new world. She can barely contain her excitement. Not only has she been granted the opportunity to save people's lives in exchange for money, her payment is a lot of money. More than she's made in years. She heads into the hallway immediately. She doesn't want to waste a second. A mixture of sounds distracts her, but she ignores them. The lab doors that line the hallway are large and car Kick-Starter Update After months of planning and preparation we are happy to announce our kickstarter campaign will go into an indefinite 6 week close starting with our 9th update next Wednesday, the 7th of March 2017. We would like to thank all of you for your support and dedication to The Wonderful 101. We will not accept any more pledges for this kickstarter campaign. This kickstarter campaign will end on Monday the 5th of July 2017. There will not be a pledge update after that date. We are looking forward to seeing your reaction to our decision of discontinuing the kickstarter. What happens next? The 6 week close will begin on Wednesday, the 7th of March 2017. At that point we will announce the details on how you can submit bug reports for the game, and investigate further small issues you come across. We will do our best to respond to bug reports, and we will slowly be releasing the game to backers, and major updates (The Elder Scrolls 5: Skyrim). This unfortunately makes it more unlikely we will be able to do bug reports this Kickstarter campaign, but we will still allow other backers to choose to do that during the 6 week close. We will be able to do reports for those who have supported us during the last 6 months at any time of the 6 weeks. Our 6 week close, and its start, lasts until midday on Wednesday the 5th of July 2017. This is the time when we will end the game. Unfortunately this is unavoidable at this time. We will continue to sell and support The Wonderful 101 as a game. If you come across any challenges in that area we will try our best to help you. After the close we will no longer have any communication with backers, neither in the game, or in game help areas. This is because we do not have the skills or experience to answer your questions. We now present the 6 week close update, and some FAQs. Don't forget all our previous kickstarter posts. What does "Indefinite" mean? It means we will let the backers of our campaign decide if they wish to continue the campaign, or if they would like to cancel it before we get to the end. We

We'll walk you through setting up DNSChanger, we'll show you how to write a small C# script to try and extract information from iOS devices, and we'll show you how to set up Xcode and Netcat. Xcode Xcode is a free product that you can download from the Mac App Store. It lets you develop and run iOS apps. You'll need it to add, change or remove apps on an iOS device. Also, it has a debugger that lets you inspect the memory of the target device. An iOS device does not have an OS independent debugger, so when you're investigating the memory of a device, the best tool to use is Xcode. We'll walk through the process of setting up Xcode and using the debugger to debug a Cydia app. Netcat Netcat is an excellent debugging tool for iOS devices that, unlike Xcode, is OS-independent. You can use it to access WiFi connections, send files and listen to network traffic. It's also easily scripted so you can do more than just send a request. We'll show you how to write a Netcat script that will connect to a specific server and send it specific commands. DNSChanger DNSChanger is a tool that lets you change the DNS servers of a device. It is very powerful, but very easy to set up and very easy to remove. It's best to keep the DNS settings of your target device alone, and it
