All 2011 H1B Spouses Can Work Without a Work Permit - sanjayparekh ===== tomjen3 This is probably not what you want to hear, but the experience working as a US citizen here in Germany has been one of complete frustration - the fact that I could not work only added to this. It sucks, but it is also largely legal. The work permit thing is one of those dumb laws that doesn't make sense, and never will. It is likely that the work permit is required because of some of the anti-abuse rules that are built into the system, but the easiest way to make this situation work is to just make it a "statutory" restriction, meaning that you are not allowed to work unless you have the permit. However, this will quickly lead to arguments about who is supposed to handle the renewal of the permit, and who is supposed to enforce it, and so on. In my opinion what needs to happen is not just to make the work permit system irrelevant (as can not happen in the short term because they are financed by the company), but that they are replaced by another system which is simpler, more based on a person's skills and knowledge, and doesn't have any anti- abuse 6d1f23a050
