I just noticed after installing AVG that it said Rufus.exe already installed so it's working after all. When I run Rufus.exe it shows up and quits. A: It is working. If you know how to fix it just go ahead. I did the reinstall with AVG and it is working. If the problem happens again just reinstall AVG again or try another antivirus which is not recommended.

The German government's Federal Office of Migration and Refugees (BAMF) will be allowed to share the data it receives from U.S. authorities on some asylum seekers as part of a recently-announced agreement between the two countries, The Washington Post reported Wednesday. President Donald Trump made news when he signed a new executive order on Tuesday, which among other things allowed him to ban citizens of seven Muslim-majority countries from entering the U.S. The move led to protests and outrage across the country and abroad. The order was quickly blocked by federal judges, who said it violated constitutional rights and caused chaos in airports across the country. But on Monday, Trump signed a new order, which does not target majority-Muslim countries but rather suspends the U.S. refugee program for 120 days, blocks all refugee admissions for 120 days and bans entry to all citizens from seven Muslim-majority countries: Iran, Iraq, Syria, Yemen, Libya, Sudan and Somalia. The agreement came as a result of an email Trump sent to German Chancellor Angela Merkel last week, urging her to block entry to Syrian refugees who planned to come to the U.S. Trump reportedly complained that Germany “is a captive of the Russian Federation” because a U.S. intelligence official told him it could have been a Russian plot to kill Americans. “The Germans are bad, very bad,” Trump reportedly said during a conversation with the official. “They are actually worse than the Iranians.” German authorities replied that while they were not sure of the intelligence source’s credibility, they would do everything they could to protect American interests and welcomed Trump’s new order. “If you are closing your doors to refugees under the pretext that they are a threat to the United States, then we will reciprocate by closing our doors to you,” they said. The German government quickly announced that they would be cooperating with Trump on the issue of refugees. ❖
